The Jordan Schnitzer Museum of Art invites submissions for the 13th annual NewArt Northwest Kids exhibition.

About the exhibition
This year’s theme, My Story through Art, encourages students to share their own stories, real or imaginary, through words and images. Students are invited to take this prompt in many different directions. Students could use artwork to tell a personal story that helped define who they are, they could illustrate a scene from a book they love, or they could create a story from their imaginations or dreams. The artwork can be created with a variety of media, including painting, prints, digital art, illustration, and collage. Students are required to answer the questions posed in the entry form to provide context about their work. The theme can also be connected to Common Core subject areas of history, social studies, science, and language arts. See http://jsma.uoregon.edu/NANK for more activity ideas responding to the theme. Please note that 3D work cannot be considered at this time.

The NewArt Northwest Kids exhibition will be on view March 18 - September 13, 2020. Student artists will be honored at an opening reception on Saturday, April 18, 2020, at 11:00 a.m., followed by a free Family Day.

How to participate
Teachers are asked to select a limited number of student works to submit—one entry per student, please. Museum staff will select a maximum of fifty pieces for the show.

Submissions must adhere to the following guidelines:
• Artwork must have been created within the past year.
• Two-dimensional work only, unmatted and unframed.
• Maximum size: 12 inches x 16 inches.
• Submissions must include a fully completed entry form and be received by January 31, 2020.
• Submitted works must be picked up from the museum in person by October 30, 2020 (a different deadline will be provided for those selected for the airport venue); student artwork will not be returned by mail. Unclaimed artwork will become the property of the museum.
